IKE'S VICTORY SETS NEW RECORD

Fayette County Goes Republican, Except for Lausche

Tuesday Voting Here Short Of Record Of 1940

Minton, Cockerill, Fabb And Johnson Win In County

A flood of votes—but not a record total as had been predicted—swept Republicans to victory in Tuesday's election in Fayette County.

Ohio's governor, Frank J. Lausche, was the only Democrat to survive the tide of ballots.

In spite of proposals for bond issues and levies for school purposes in six townships as an added incentive, the total vote in the county was 551 fewer than it was in 1940.

Only 10,680 votes were cast for president this year; in 1940 a total of 11,231 votes was cast for Franklin D. Roosevelt (5249) and Wendell Willkie (5982).

There was no mistake about Fayette County's election. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican candidate, was given a whopping vote of 6,798 and his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson, 3,882, according to the unofficial returns.

There was not much doubt, either, about how they felt about the state administration.

After going right down the line for the Republicans, they did an about-face to give Gov. Lausche, a Democrat, 5412 votes, 409 more than the 5003 votes they gave his Republican opponent, Charles P. Taft.

Sen. John W. Bricker carried the county easily in his bid for reelection to the United States Senate. His vote of 6417 was second only to that given Eisenhower as he swamped his Democratic opponent, Michael V. DiSalle, who got only 3250 votes.

REPUBLICAN candidates easily won the three county offices which were contested.

Ralph M. Minton, seeking reelection, and Robert Cockerill, were chosen for the two vacancies on the board of county commissioners. Minton set the pace with 5767 votes and Cockerill was second with 5103 in the three-candidate race. Hazel Moyer, the Democratic candidate lost with 4187 votes.

Charles A. Fabb, Republican candidate for reelection as county treasurer, got 5387 votes to beat out his Democratic opponent, Frank Grubbs, a former representative to the state Legislature and ex-head of the county Democratic organization.

Mrs. Eloise Johnson, Republican deputy in the recorder's office under her father, Recorder Frank Whiteside, was named for recorder over Miss Mary Ellen Briggs, her Democratic opponent, with a 5952 to 3355 vote margin on the unofficial count.

Voters of Fayette County also turned thumbs down on the proposal for a constitutional convention in no uncertain terms. The vote was 5994 against it, to only 2184 in favor of it.

WITH THE ELECTION of two commissioners, the treasurer and a recorder, county officialdom was completely Republican. All the others went in without opposition, but (Please turn to Page Twelve)

Gov. Lausche Only Democrat To Survive Ohio GOP Surge

Sen. Bricker Far in Front For Reelection

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5.—A Republican sweep gave Ohio's 25th presidential electoral votes to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and left Gov. Frank J. Lausche the only elected Democratic official in the Statehouse.

Gov. Frank Lausche

Lausche successfully bucked the GOP tide to become the first four-term governor in Ohio history. His Republican opponent, Charles P. Taft, younger brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft, conceded defeat early Wednesday morning.

"Heartiest congratulations on your decisive victory," Taft telegraphed Lausche, who held a 175,000-vote lead with the count completed in about half the polling places.

A later count in 10,600 polling places gave Lausche 1,957,089 and Taft 1,543,193.

At the same time, 10,661 polling places were giving Eisenhower 2,040,903 to 1,554,082 for his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson.

Lausche later issued the following statement:

"It goes without saying that I am deeply grateful to the citizens of Ohio for their faith in what I have been trying to do.

"I do not believe that the fact that I received more votes than my opponent in itself constitutes victory. Whether I really won or (Please turn to Page Ten)

Bloody Fight Boils For Ridge Control

SEOUL, Nov. 5.—Bloody fighting for Triangle Hill and Sniper Ridge flared Wednesday into the heaviest action of the 23-day struggle for the Korean central front heights.

South Korean troops in a pre-dawn sneak attack stabbed within 10 yards of the crest of Triangle Hill, then were pinned down by Chinese Red hand grenades and machinegun fire. Five previous Allied attempts to retake the height, lost on Friday, have stalled in the same place.

Cong. Polk Likely District Winner

BULLETIN!
At 1:40 P. M. a report from Portsmouth said that all but one precinct unofficially tabulated, Polk now leads by only 181 majority. The vote is so close a recount may be asked, it was said, since a total of more than 110,000 votes were cast in this race.

With only five precincts in Scioto County still unreported, the total unofficial vote for Representative to Congress in this newly revamped sixth Ohio district of nine counties including Fayette, indicated Wednesday afternoon that the present veteran Democratic congressman, James G. Polk, of Highland County, would be the winner over Republican state Senator LEO Blackburn of Portsmouth by a very slender margin.

The total unofficial vote as reported from Scioto County, where all counties of the district must file official returns for this office, exclusive of the five precincts unreported, showed Polk 65,927 and Blackburn 65,489, a Polk lead of 438.

It was said that the returns from the five outstanding precincts in Scioto County probably would not materially change this result. Only some decided difference in one or more counties, which might be revealed in the official tabulation, (Please turn to Page Two)

Will We Meet The Challenge?

(An Editorial)

Today this nation may have reason for a deep sense of gratitude and understanding that Tuesday's election probably has saved it from itself.

The decisive victory of General Dwight Eisenhower for the presidency of the United States apparently indicates that the people, in their headlong rush to follow a dangerous course toward State Socialism, have pulled up short by recognizing the truth that it is truly "time for a change."

Most thinkers will agree that the sound judgement of a majority has succeeded in halting a heedless and deadly drive at brink of an abyss of almost certain national catastrophe, economic and otherwise. Too many have failed to recognize this growing threat which in the not distant future could have meant a change in our form of government. It easily might have meant that "a great Republic can die."

Tuesday's election result was by no means a mere partisan Republican victory. Hundreds of thousands of sober-minded Democrats saw what was happening and stood by the principles of Thomas Jefferson and others of his patriotic type. They believed in sound government and common sense.

Nor was this election a reflection upon the character of Gov. Adlai Stevenson. He appeared to have been misled into lending his name and influence to a group which did not represent the true Democratic party.

It has been a sad page in the history of our country that for several years the nation has been under the leadership of a president whose capacities were far out of proportion to the honored and responsible position he held; a man and his cohorts whose vision was limited by temporary partisan political advantage and an appeal to the selfish "something for nothing" idea. This leadership seemed content to blithely try to direct public thinking into a channel of "We don't know where we're going, but we're on our way."

Stevenson became the unwitting victim of a huge and selfish bureaucracy, drunk with power, which fed and waxed fat on unsound government practices and the gullibility of many who failed, or refused, to analyze the dangerous steps being taken.

That this mad mood seemingly has been stopped until people recover their sense of balance and vision, is heartening, but it will be a problem and a challenge to meet the criticism that is certain to come from possible necessary sacrifices that may be required in moving toward sound and sensible good government.

General Eisenhower would appear to be temperamentally fitted for this difficult task ahead. He is stable in his thinking and a man of high purpose and abiding integrity.

He indicates an approach to the great responsibility of leadership, with a humility that begets confidence. He knows the problems to be faced and he knows the criticism he will encounter.

His first concern is for unity of our citizenship in an earnest effort to meet what lies ahead. There may be some adjustments that do not appeal to individual selfishness. We cannot expect a dangerous trend which has been growing over almost 20 years to be completely rectified in a short period. It will require time, thought and spiritual consecration to a policy of honesty in judgement for the future welfare of America.

It is a huge task. Will the people accept the challenge under Eisenhower leadership and meet it with traditional American courage and straight thinking?

4 of 6 Proposals For Schools Pass

Two of the three bond issue proposals and two of the three levy proposals for school purposes were given solid approval by the voters in the six districts where they were up for decision in Tuesday's voting. A levy for fire protection in Union Township also was approved.

Union school district voters passed a proposal for a bond issue of $250,000 for constructing fireproof additions to three school buildings, improvements of three non-fireproof school buildings and provision of furniture and furnishings 573 to 277. The schools are Wilson, Chaffin and Eber. Only 55 percent was required for passage, but this three-ply proposal received a 67-plus percent favorable vote.

Every precinct voted for the proposal: Paint Bookwater 16 to 2; Lower Paint 33 to 13; Perry 24 to 11; Union South 152 to 53; Union East 145 to 64; Union West 173 to 123 and part of Jefferson East 30 to 11.

Green school district voters approved a $65,000 bond issue proposal for the purpose of construction of a fireproof school building and improvement of a non-fireproof school building and provision of furniture and furnishings by a vote of 128 to 80. The vote in Green Township was 128 to 71, but that portion of Perry Township in the school district cast 9 votes against the proposal and not a single vote for it. A levy estimated at 2.93 mills for a 21-year period would be required to pay off the indebtedness. (Please turn to Page Ten)

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—House minority leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of North Attleboro was reelected Tuesday by a big margin.

The GOP stalwart polled 108,175 to 62,672 for Democrat Edward F. Doolan in complete returns in the 14th Congressional District.

Sweep Fails To Guarantee GOP Congress

Eisenhower Shatters 20-Year Dem Reign, Cracks Solid South

By The Associated Press
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower smashed all voting records today as he won the presidency in a sprawling landslide that left control of Congress teetering in the balance between Republicans and Democrats.

Americans who liked Ike gave the 62-year-old war hero the greatest vote ever poured out for a presidential candidate as he forced a 20-year Democratic mortgage on the White House and sent Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois down to crushing defeat.

With about 29,000 precincts yet to be tabulated, Eisenhower already had rolled up 29,124,001 votes—far over the previous record of 27,751,597 set by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936 and far outdistancing Wendell L. Willkie's Republican highwater mark of 22,305,198 in 1940.

Stevenson has polled 23,470,798 votes of the total of 52,594,799.

CONTROL OF BOTH the House and Senate remained in doubt in mounting returns from Tuesday's record-smashing election.

Even if his party couldn't keep pace with him in the far corners of (Please turn to Page Ten)

150 Inmates Being Sent To Camp Perry

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5.—Ohio Penitentiary officials Wednesday began transfer of 150 prisoners to Camp Perry on Lake Erie following the collapse of a $1 million prison riot.

The melee brought death to one convict and wounds to four others and a state highway patrolman.

While buses were getting ready for the trip to Camp Perry, prison guards shook down the 1,600 hold-out convicts who surrendered late Tuesday inside beleaguered Cell-blocks 6, H, I and K.

The transfer to Camp Perry will be the largest movement of inmates in the prison's history, even larger than the one in 1930 when a fire killed 320. The movement will give Warden Ralph W. Alvis a place to put "hard core" prisoners while broken cell locks are repaired.

The prisoners were out of control from Friday evening until their surrender Tuesday.

None of the 600 to 800 prisoners Alvis eventually plans to send to the National Guard post near Sandusky on Lake Erie will be from the 1,600 convicts who caused the most trouble. Those to be moved under guard by bus will be the "best" among the inmates.

Youth Center Move Studied

Students Meet With Two Teachers

A movement has been started by several Washington C. H. High School students, mostly from the junior and senior classes, to establish a youth center here.

A group of them met Tuesday evening with two WHS faculty members, Roger Hoffman and William Bowman, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Loudner to discuss the idea and make plans as a forerunner of an effort to secure a vacant building and to talk with the businessmen of the town about getting a youth center started.

Only on special occasions do the students have a place to meet together and dance. These are mostly after football and basketball games once a week.

Some of the clubs of the high school have dances during the year but because of lack of money very few are held.

A SPOKESMAN for the students said that what they wanted was a recreation place where they could get together after school and "on dates" when there is no football or basketball game or party at the school.

Several places were mentioned as good possibilities for a youth center but nothing definite was found out in regard to them. Several of the students are contacting owners of other sites that would make a good youth center.

Plans for financing the project and providing furnishings for the youth center were also discussed at the meeting. The young people are willing to do as much of the work and financing as they possibly can.

The students are out contacting the businessmen and asking for cooperation and any suggestions that would help in getting a youth center started.

Polk Likely Winner

could likely change the final result. Reports of the unofficial congressional vote recorded in all the counties in the district, were as follows:

Fayette, Blackburn 5,916; Polk 3,554; Scioto, Blackburn 16,189; Polk 16,875; Ross, Blackburn 10,930; Polk 9,232; Highland, Blackburn 6,212; Polk 6,676; Brown County, Blackburn 3,771; Polk 5,381; Pike, Blackburn 2,222; Polk 4,100; Adams, Blackburn 4,563; Polk 4,307; Clermont, Blackburn 10,343; Polk 10,760; Totals Blackburn, 65,489; Polk, 65,927.

Scioto County, the largest in the sixth district, was expected to be carried for Blackburn because it was his home, but the heavy labor vote in Portsmouth was reported against him. Another factor which is said to have considerable influence on the district result was the announcement of the government's decision to build the huge new atomic plant in Pike County which gave Polk a majority of nearly 1,900 votes. Polk, as congressman, had claimed some credit for the government's decision to locate the big new industry in that region. The Scioto County vote, also was reported somewhat affected by this move because of the proposed new plant's nearness to that county.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 — (P)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower won the presidency for various reasons which can be reduced to two, one personal, the other political: He was Eisenhower; and the voters were fed up with the Truman administration.

The proof of his personal drawing power was the fact that he ran far ahead of his party. His immense popularity and the public confidence in him already established, gave him an overwhelming advantage from the start.

Stevenson, unknown outside Illinois until his nomination, had to begin his campaign from scratch.

Even so, Eisenhower's great prestige might have been offset by the unknown Stevenson, merely because he was the Democratic candidate, if there had been no real issues and the voters were satisfied with the Democrats.

But Eisenhower inherited a bundle of issues which the Republicans had been harping on for years and which put Stevenson in an even worse spot: He was in a defensive position from the start.

The Republicans made the most of high taxes, high prices, exposure of crookedness and flexible ethics in the Democratic administration, and the stalemate Korean war. They stimulated further doubt about the administration with their endless charges of Communism in government.

For Franklin D. Roosevelt, who had shepherded them out of a depression and successfully through most of World War II, the people developed an amazing confidence which they exhibited by electing him four times. It was as if they considered him a wise father who could lead them through darkness and danger.

They had less faith in the Democrats under President Truman, as they showed when they had their first chance to, which was in the congressional elections of 1946. Going into that election the Democrats controlled both houses of Congress. But the Republicans said: "Had enough? The voters apparently thought they did. They elected Republican majorities in the House and Senate.

When it came time for the presidential race in 1948 the Republicans tried the "had enough?" slogan again. It worked in reverse. After watching the Republicans in Congress for two years, the voters thought they had enough of them. They reelected Truman and put Democratic majorities in both houses.

But the Democratic victory in 1948 was not an overpowering display of voter confidence in the party. Truman barely squeaked back into the White House and the Democrats had a congressional majority by a hairline.

The problems and complications that developed over the next four years sapped voter faith in the

Lowly Tin Can Becomes Vital

Food For Millions Now Depends On It

By DICK LACOSTE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—As war clouds float on the horizon, military men are as concerned with the lowly tin can as they are with bombs and bullets. Why?

Should the Korean conflict flare into all-out war, Americans immediately would be deployed on a world-wide scale.

They would be stationed on lonely Arctic isles in the glaring light and deepening shadows of the North and South Poles; on tiny atolls in the Atlantic and Pacific; in countless camps stateside.

Feeding these millions of men would be a tremendous task. But above and beyond feeding troops, tin cans may mean the survival of millions of Americans in case of atomic attack. For although Civil Defense authorities for housewives to store several large cans of liquid fruit and vegetable juices, the response has been hardly encouraging.

And the military are worried. But we've come a long way since Nicolas Appert, a Frenchman, figured out the first fundamentals of preserving foods. Exactly 200 years to be exact. And on Oct. 23, military men the world over paid homage to the lowly confectioner who saved the day for the great Napoleon.

In 1775, while the Continental armies of George Washington were battling the British, Napoleon was overrunning Europe. Few of his enemies could hold ground. But there was one foe Napoleon couldn't conquer—poisoned foods. French soldiers died by the hun-democrats. "Time for a change," the Republicans said in 1952. It was almost as if they had wrapped up in one easy sentence the accumulated dissatisfactions of many people.

dreds from scurvy and other diseases. Often, when weak from hunger, they couldn't fight. As a result Napoleon offered a prize of 12,000 francs to the man who would find the secret of preserving foods throughout extensive campaigns.

APPERT, no chemist, experimented with the trial and error method. The little confectioner realized that the world's food baskets could be preserved if he could find that secret. After years of experiments, Nicolas reasoned that if food were sufficiently heated, then sealed in an airtight container, it would keep.

It did. In 1909, Nicolas received the prize from the hands of none other than Napoleon Bonaparte himself.

One year later, Peter Durand patented the "tin canster," forerunner of today's tin can.

There's no doubt that tin cans since have saved many a soldier's life. They saved United States lives in World War I and in World War II, and now they are saving lives in Korea.

Comes an atomic attack, they will save millions of American lives. Maybe even your life.

Jet Transports Of Britain Get Valued Experience

Had things gone according to plan BOAC, Britain's nationalized air line, would have been giving Americans their first taste of jet-powered air travel next spring, says a news report. Schedules had been set up for regular runs to Bermuda and Nassau, using the De Havilland Comet I.

This ship is now flying regularly between London and South Africa and London and Singapore. But after taking another look at the logistics and the prevailing winds of the western Atlantic, BOAC called the deal off.

Meanwhile Britain gains invaluable jet-transport experience, and production of new and bigger jet passenger planes is proceeding at a fast clip. BOAC will get delivery next year of a number of Comet IIIs, which are about the same size (30-odd passengers) but with longer range than the present plane.

The big event will be delivery in 1954 of the Comet III, a 58-passenger transport which will have a safe range of 2,700 miles. This is the day American commercial transport men are anticipating with apprehension.

Thus far Boeing is the only American plane manufacturer to challenge British supremacy in the jet airliner field. Boeing promises to have a prototype under test by 1954. Actual production isn't scheduled until 1956-57.

At least two American air carriers have made purchase offers to De Havilland for Comets IIIs. Pan American, which is competing with BOAC on the South African routes, has ordered three of the large models, obviously as an anchor to windward. Even though it cannot get its hands on the planes until 1956, Pan American apparently feels that it cannot afford to slip further behind in the world air carrier race.

Agricultural Progress Is Slow in Philippines

MANILA—A U. S. Mutual Security Agency expert says the Philippines is below par in agricultural production because of slow progress toward mechanized farming.

Robert T. McMillan, MSA sociologist, compared the islands' rice yield in 1918 and 1951 and found that last year's crop was the same as 33 years earlier.

He said one of the chief reasons for the slow application of better farming methods was due to the old system of "one peasant, one plow, and one work animal" on small plots of land.

Rotary Holds Lively Meeting Here Tuesday

Eli Craig Makes Plea For Club To Push New Projects

Rotarians, meeting Tuesday noon at the Country Club, agreed unanimously that this meeting was one of the best in years.

Being election day, there was a lot of good natured banter and then the program ended with a number of worthwhile suggestions for betterment of the organization, its fellowship and its community service.

Eli Craig was in charge of the program and after being introduced by President Marilyn Riley, gave a brief talk on the need for active club participation in some new project for public benefit.

A call was made for any Rotarians who had not yet voted to stand and only four members confessed to failure to vote during the morning but said that they would vote early in the afternoon.

Two past district governors were in attendance, George Waddell of Greenfield and Colin Campbell of the Washington Club and at various times during the general discussion both talked briefly on what steps should be taken to make new as well as older members enter fully into the idea of good fellowship at all club meetings.

REMARKS AND SUGGESTIONS came from nearly a dozen Rotarians touching various phases of club activity following Eli Craig's brief talk which centered upon the theme "What do I get out of Rotary?"

He related that his earliest remembrance of Rotary was about 25 years ago when he participated in a Rotary Christmas entertainment as a youngster here in a cast in a young people's play under the direction of Mrs. O. D. Farquhar.

He said that so far as he knew he was the only representative of a third generation of membership in the local club. He spoke of memories of other days in Rotary and recalled the names of a number of prominent former members.

The speaker entering upon the serious side of his talk recalled that the club had not been engaged in any big project since it had been responsible for Washington Park and the swimming pool. "This is no time to sit back and say that we have done our job in the community," he said. "We need to start pushing and agitating for something constructive of community-wide benefit in the near future."

STATING THAT IT was his sincere belief that the club should enter upon some new project soon, he commended the local Rotary movement toward enlargement of its youth program, but indicated he thought that this was not enough in itself. "We need something that will challenge us, something into which we can 'put our teeth' with vigor and enthusiasm," he asserted, indicating further that he believed something in connection with the club's vocational service might offer such an opportunity.

It was following this talk that various club members began making suggestions and real interest was aroused by some of the ideas offered.

President Riley thanked Craig for his talk and as suggestions and ideas from various Rotarians were made, finally had to call the session to an end because more than the usual time was being used for the meeting. He stated that the club's board of directors in weeks past had been discussing some of the suggestions being offered in this meeting and that the board probably would present a program along this line for club approval in the near future.

Previous to the regular program Carl Smith, Washington High School football star, was presented by Morse Weimer as the new student guest. Kemp Alleman, the outgoing student guest thanked the club very cordially for his two weeks of guest membership.

No Constitution Change Wanted

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5 — (P)—Ohioans apparently don't want their state constitution changed.

With 1,914 of 10,877 polling places reported, the question of having a constitutional convention to consider changes in the document appeared headed for defeat. The count: For holding a convention 114,397; against holding a convention 303,564.

Farm Bureau Man Is Speaker

Annual Fayette Farm Bureau Meeting

A new man in the field of Farm Bureau work will be the speaker at the 33rd annual Farm Bureau meeting to be held Thursday evening at the Farm Bureau auditorium. He is Jacob A. Shawan.

Shawan was named director of member relations for the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation in August, 1952. At his post, Shawan is concerned with membership programs, working with Farm Bureau Federation district supervisors, the county committees and county Farm Bureau boards of directors toward this end.

Shawan began with the Farm Bureau in 1940 as office manager of the Hancock County Farm Bureau Cooperative, Findlay. Following four years in the army during World War II, Shawan as assistant manager of the Farm Bureau's feed division, in charge of feed distribution.

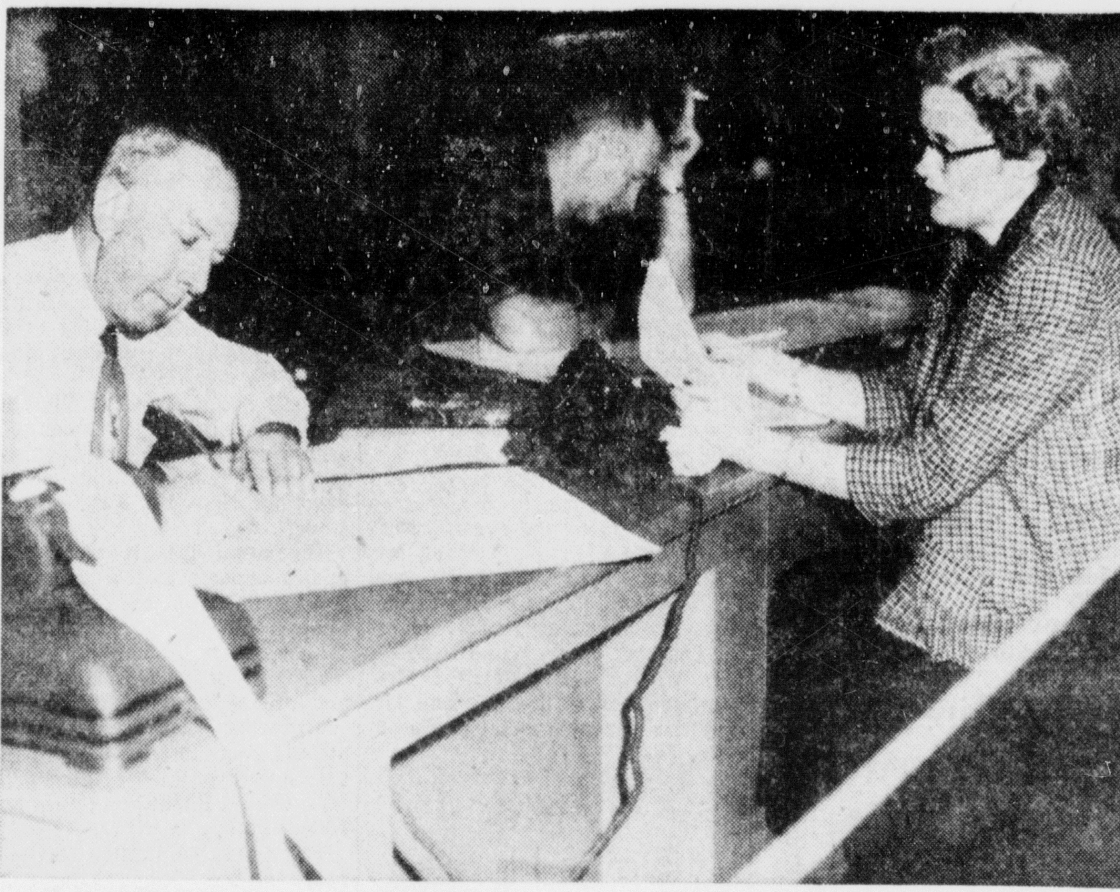

A native of DeGraff, Shawan is a graduate of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University. He is very active in Columbus civic activities and is past-president of the Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce. He is on the board of directors of the 5th Armored Division; a former member of the Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Marblecliff City Council.

Sea-going High School Stages Lifeboat Race

NEW YORK—Students from the ship John W. Brown, believed to be the only floating maritime high school in the United States, held a lifeboat race in the East River recently with two nine-man crews of seniors.

The crews raced from 34th Street to 24th Street with a Coast Guard patrol boat keeping pace. The engineers defeated the deck force for the first time in the five years the race has been held.

Since 1937 the schoolship, an annex of the Board of Education's Metropolitan Vocational High School, has graduated about 800 seamen. The average age of students is from 17 to 18.

IT WAS PRACTICALLY AN ALL-NIGHT job at the Record-Herald office to gather and tabulate the returns from Tuesday's balloting in Fayette County. Volunteer helpers (above) came in to help the regular news staff get the mass of figures for the unofficial report ready for the early morning mail edition and election extra. Roy Baughn, a former county auditor and city councilman (at left) and Albert Bryant, vice president of the First National Bank (right) enter a precinct vote on the master tabulation sheets as Mrs. Paul Rodenfels calls it off after Dr. F. D. Woollard, another volunteer, had taken the figures over the telephone. (Record-Herald photo)

Chiang Kai-Shek's Hopes For China

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's hopes of liberating China from the Communists have provided a military, political and almost every other kind of an issue says a news report. His prospects of achieving it wax and wane, in the opinion of the American public, depending on which "expert" they listen to.

In New York the other evening, for example, Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang, Chinese Nationalist representative to the UN, told a dinner audience that there are 8,000,000 free Chinese on Formosa, and 450,000,000 on the mainland willing and eager to overthrow the present red regime. If but a fraction of the American "investment" in Western Europe or Korea were given to Chiang there would be, as he put it, "hope for the people of China."

There is little doubt that material aid to Chiang has been a comparative dribble. War Correspondent Marguerite Higgins, in a dispatch from Formosa, speaks feelingly of the frustrations undergone by Chiang and his troops as the Communists build their war machine. Since the "neutralization" policy imposed by Washington two years ago went into effect, the reds have built an air force of 2,000 planes, more than half of them jets. The skies over the mainland are being scanned with increasing anxiety by those stranded on Formosa, 100 miles off shore.

Chiang could become a threat to the red Chinese again, but only if aid arrived quickly and in great quantities, according to Miss Higgins.

Child Counsels Daddy When In Poker Game

ST. LOUIS—John McCann had a few of the boys over for poker one night recently. His tiny daughter Kathleen kept running in and out of the kitchen thereby interrupting the smooth progress of the game.

Daddy said he would spank her and put her to bed if she didn't stay out of the room. Kathleen merely put her hand on his arm and said, "Down boy."

Washington C. H. Woman's Son Business Manager Of Magazine

Arnold Shoop

Arnold Shoop, who spend his summers in Washington C. H. when he was a boy, today is the business manager of House & Garden magazine, with offices in New York.

He has kept many of his old friends here through frequent visits with his mother, Mrs. Jennie Shoop, 431 East Street. He was here only a week ago, but made no mention of his appointment as House & Garden business manager then; the announcement came later from the general offices of Conde Nast Publications, Inc., publisher of House & Garden, in New York City.

Shoop was born in Chicago, where his father was the superintendent of schools for many years before his death, but he spent his summers here with his grandmother and other relatives.

FOLLOWING HIS graduation from the University of Illinois, he went into the advertising business with one of the big agencies in Chicago. Later he joined the Conde Nast Co. and was assigned to the Detroit office as a member of the advertising staff of the Chicago headquarters of the company.

For the last seven years, he has been advertising manager of House & Garden with his office in New York City.

He and Mrs. Shoop and their daughter, Miss Janice Shoop, and son Tommy Shoop, have been spending several weeks each summer in Washington C. H. with Mrs. Shoop and other relatives, for a number of years.

Miss Janice Shoop was graduated from Wilmington College last June and is now teaching at Nyack, N. Y. Her brother is attending Andover College preparatory school at Andover, N. H.

The Shoops live in Harrison, N. Y., a suburb of New York City.

Succeeding Shoop as advertising manager of House & Garden in New York is John Camph, formerly the western advertising manager.

American Position Among Allies

By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 — The incoming administration and Congress will have to recognize the existence of growing opposition among our overseas allies to American domination of world affairs through our allegedly one-sided use of our great military and financial power.

Although these threatening developments have been obscured by the campaign excitement, they will necessitate a complete review and possible revision of the Truman-Acheson foreign policy.

When it is fully revealed, the extent and depth of this revolt against our international manners will probably fall on resentful ears in this country, especially on Capitol Hill.

In view of the fact that the United States has spent $40 billion for foreign aid and recovery in the postwar years, the charge of ingratitude will be hurled at the expanding circle of critics.

ALLAYING FEARS—But Secretary Acheson and our diplomatic corps are aware and alarmed at this trend. They are seeking to allay these fears and prejudices in quiet talks with foreign representatives at the current United Nations sessions in New York. But it is obvious that no definite or positive remedial reforms can be undertaken by the outgoing regime.

Only the next President can pass judgment on this extremely difficult and ominous questioning of our motives and objectives. As a result, after Jan. 20, almost every trans-Atlantic plane will carry to Washington the most distinguished invasion of European emissaries since World War II days, possibly including Churchill, Schuman, Aduener, etc.

BIG BOSS—Despite attempts to suppress the fact until after yesterday's election, our European associates have flatly informed us that they will not accept any more American money for strictly economic help. They complain because, in return, we have demanded a certain right to supervised their use of our funds.

We have tried to boss them on such items as profits, taxes, prices, labor relationships, etc. We have acted like a combination of banker and shop foreman in their internal affairs.

They endured this interference in the early postwar years. But their prolonged dependency has grated on them. It also furnishes ammunition to their political opposition, especially the Communists, who declare that their governments have become "wards of Uncle Sam."

REINFORCEMENTS—No savings in forthcoming presidential budgets will result from our compliance with their demand, however. They will insist on greatly increased funds for military assistance, especially the purchases of arms manufactured in their own countries.

As further evidence of the insistence on getting away from our apron strings, even friendly UN members have turned deaf ears to Acheson's current pleas for more military reinforcement in Korea. The U. S. has become the UN's agent in fact as well as in name.

London points out that, in addition to her forces engaged in Malaya, Burma and elsewhere, she has done as much as she could in the "police action." Paris notes that her expenditures in resisting Communist invasion of Indo-China has cost twice what she has received from us under Marshall and Mutual Security plans.

Both nations regard their efforts in these areas as important to "containment of Communism" as the U. S.-sponsored war in Korea.

REBUFF—Another premonitory indication of our involuntary "isolation" occurred at a recent UN session, when 21 members voted against us on the question of making Yugoslavi a member of key committee. The rebuff to ourselves and our Balkan ally was generally overlooked because we were more concerned with political than with world affairs.

Our opposition consisted of Asian and South American countries, together with Russia and her satellites. Although anti-Communist, the Asian and South American nations expressed belief that we were trying to run UN affairs for our own interests rather than for the common good. Prime Minister Nehru's spokesman lined up against us.

RUSSIAN WAR—Fundamentally, many foreign nations and important elements abroad fear that the U. S. is heading straight for war with Russia, and they want no part of it because it will be fought on their home grounds.

The Record-Herald, Wednesday, Nov. 5, 1952 7
Washington, C. H., Ohio

In certain respects, they think that Truman and Acheson have been as bellicose as Stalin and Vishinsky, strange as that may seem to us. They see scant difference between what they describe as "Russian aggression" and "American imperialism."

Nehru has said, in effect, that "we need bread, not guns," adding sardonically that his people might not survive to use the guns unless they have bread to eat in the meantime. Indeed, that is the cry — and complaint — against us from all the "Backward and undeveloped" lands.

Ike Labeled As Being Very Sports-Minded

President-Elect Once Favored Football, But Played Golfing Now

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is perhaps the most sports-minded chief executive in our nation's history.

He was a football player at West Point, proud of the fact he once tackled the great Jim Thorpe. He took a brief fling at baseball in the Central League. Today, still at his old playing weight of 173 pounds, he shoots a bangup game of golf.

When A. B. (Happy) Chandler was dismissed as commissioner of baseball more than a year ago, Eisenhower was among those considered for the post. But his duties as NATO chief in Europe were too important.

Ike is an avid sports fan. "Football is a tremendous spectacle," he says. "Remember I saw my first game from the sidelines with Gus Dorais (Notre Dame) throwing passes to the Rock (Knute Rockne)." He told a group of sports figures at a New York tete-a-tete recently.

"TODAY I CAN go to a major league baseball game and come away a raving maniac."

Golf is the President-elect's game today and he's planning to go away and play 10 days of golf as relaxation after the strenuous campaign.

One of his regular playing partners in recent weeks has been Cliff Roberts of Augusta, Ga., and New York, who hosts the famous Masters Tournament in Georgia.

"Ike hits a long ball off the tee," Roberts said. "He's a very good golfer, regularly in the 80s."

Eisenhower is more modest. He says his figure is 90 and up but acknowledged he fired a 79 two years ago in Port Chester, N. Y., and recently had an 82.

Roberts was with him when he shot the 82. "He had a birdie on the par four 14th," Roberts said. "He had two good hits and sank a 12-foot putt."

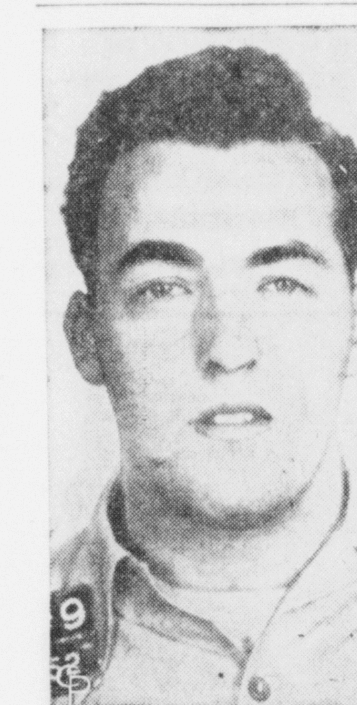

Eisenhower carries in his bag a putter used by Jack Westland in the latter's surprising triumph in the National Amateur Golf Championship at Seattle last summer. Westland, 47, ran for Congress from Washington.

Ike wasn't an outstanding gridiron star at the Point. He played fullback, did plunging duties and backed up the line.

He recalled the game he played against Carlisle Indians. "It was a pleasure to see a guy like Thorpe running by," he said.

It was against Tufts in 1913 that Eisenhower suffered a torn cartilage in his knee, cutting short his athletic career. "It took five days to straighten out the leg," he said.

Turkeys, the birds, are so called because of a former mistaken belief they came from Turkey.

LEONARD GLICKFIELD, 20, a student at University of Maryland and son of a Washington drink spot operator, is accused of attempting to bribe three Maryland football players to hold down the score in a football game with Louisiana State university. (International)

Stranahan Faces Paternity Suit

TOLEDO, Nov. 5.—A 24-year-old Toledo beauty has filed a paternity charge against Frank Stranahan, amateur golf star and heir to an auto-parts business fortune.

The 30-year-old Stranahan posted $300 cash bail in Lucas County jail Tuesday on the charge, filed in Domestic Relations Court last Wednesday by Miss Irene Buchelle. She accused Stranahan of fathering a daughter born to her last April 11.

Steubenville Man Is 'Dad Of Dads'

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5.—Ohio State University's "Dad of Dads" this year is Sam DiMichele of Steubenville.

Selected by lottery, he will represent the parents of all 18,600 university students at Dads' Day observance on the campus Saturday featuring the Ohio State-Pittsburgh football game. He is the father of Anthony DiMichele, first-year student in the college of dentistry.

Jeff Tigers Win First Cage Game

Ross Twp. Outfit Beaten, 61 to 45

Jeffersonville's Tigers opened their basketball season auspiciously Tuesday night by trouncing the Ross Township cagers, 61 to 45, in their game played at Jamestown.

Coach Ewen Bryden, starting his second year as the Tiger coach, said after the game that "it looks like we'd have a pretty good team this year."

Last year, the Tigers wound up with a 13-13 record and were the runners-up to Bloomingburg's Bulldogs in the county tournament.

In their opener with the Ross Township outfit, the Tigers set in with an effective offense at the start and stretched out a 17-8 lead in the first period.

They relaxed their defenses a little in the second period and the Ross boys collected just twice as many points as they had made in the first. But the Tigers more than kept pace.

The Tiger offense was well balanced with all five starters sharing in the scoring. Clark Coe set the pace with seven field goals and a total of 17 points.

Newman was the hot shot of the Ross Township crew. He connected with seven shots from the field and got a total of 20 points. Most of his fielders were on set shots outside the perimeter of the Tiger zone defense.

The Tigers have two more games coming up this week. They play South Solon on the Jeff field Friday and Saturday they are to go to South Salem.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 5.—If the weatherman cooperates, the biggest crowd ever to see an Ohio State-Pittsburgh football game here may be on hand Saturday when the Bucks and the Panthers renew their gridiron rivalry.

Ohio State officials predicted an attendance of 75,000 to 77,000 if the weather is right. The previous high for an OSU-Pitt game was 74,703.

The normal human spine has 33 or 34 vertebrae of which 9 or 10 are fused into two bones, the sacrum and coccyx.

Fess Winner In Race For State Senator

Lowell Fess, of Greene County, Republican candidate for state senator in the fifth-sixth Ohio district of which Fayette County is a part, appeared to have decisively defeated his Democratic opponent, Robert Mellman, according to incomplete returns from counties in the district except Fayette, which had reported in full.

Complete returns from all 44 precincts in Fayette County gave Fess 5654, and Mellman 3345. The unofficial Fess majority here was 2309.

Returns from Clinton County indicated that Fess would carry that county by more than 2500 majority; Highland by 800 to 1000 majority; Greene County, home of Fess, by perhaps 4000 or better, and Ross by an estimated 1000.

Final returns on all counties would not be completed, it was reported, until sometime last Wednesday, but there appeared no doubt that Fess would win the district by a majority ranging from 7000 and 10,000 votes.

Fayette County

they all were given big complimentary votes.

Rep. Virgil Perrill will go back for another term in the lower house of the state Legislature, Orlando Hays will remain as the sheriff, Charles P. Wagner will continue as the engineer, Dr. N. M. Reiff will be the coroner and John Bath will go in as the new prosecuting attorney in the place of Clark Wickensimer, who did not seek reelection.

Ulric Acton, the auditor, was the only county official whose term of office went right on through this election.

Fayette Countians, following the Republican leanings, backed Leo Blackburn of Portsmouth, with 5916 votes for representative from this, the sixth district, to the national Congress. They gave Rep. James Polk of Highland, the Democratic incumbent, 3554 votes.

Rep. Polk and Blackburn, however, were locked in a nip and tuck battle throughout the district. The winner may not be determined until late Wednesday.

Lowell Fess, the Republican candidate for state senator from this district, was given a 5654 to 3345 vote margin over his Democratic opponent, Robert Mellman.

Fayette Countians stuck to Republican lines in their voting for state officers too:

For lieutenant governor—John W. Brown 5634 and George D. Nye 3873.

Secretary of state—Ted W. Brown 5979 and Charles F. Sweeney 4364.

Auditor of state—James A. Rhodes 5962 and Joseph T. Ferguson 3557.

Treasurer of state—Roger W. Tracy 6027 and John J. Gallagher 3312.

Attorney general—C. William O'Neill 5877 and Paul F. Ward 3179.

For the full term for judge of the state supreme court, commencing Jan. 1, 1953, Fayette Countians gave Zimmerman 3901 votes and Douglass 3611 and for the full term commencing Jan. 2, 1953, they gave Stewart 4984 and Johnston 2188.

The first report on the election came in from the first ward, precinct C, just 7 minutes after the polls closed. It was on the ballot for governor and gave Lausche 119 and Taft 108. This was the first precinct in the state reported to the Associated Press.

The last report came into the Board of Elections office at 3 A. M. Wednesday. It was from Union West.

Thus, it took 8½ hours to complete the vote count in the county. Several precincts reported in complete before midnight, but from then on the returns dragged slowly.

More Co. M Guards on Pen Duty

ADDITIONAL GUARDSMEN FROM COMPANY M of Washington C. H. are shown getting on a bus headed for the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus to help control unrest there that started last Friday. Seventy men from Co. M are at the prison standing guard in case more trouble arises. Fifty-five have been on duty seven out of eight days.

More guardsmen from Company M of Washington C. H. left Tuesday night for the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus, to help patrol the riot which has been going on since last Friday.

About 15 men boarded a special bus Tuesday evening for Columbus, along with 32 other men who had already been at the prison but were brought home to vote in Tuesday's election. Just the guardsmen who were old enough to vote were brought home, but they were taken right back to duty at the prison.

Seventy guardsmen from Co. M are now on guard at the prison. Fifty-five of them have been there since the outbreak of the prisoners and have been on duty seven out of eight days. The 15 who left last night will be on duty for the first time.

In all, eight national guard companies are at the prison. Each company stands guard for six hours at a time with four companies on duty the same time.

County Courts

TO QUIET TITLE

Code E. Stookey has filed suit in common pleas court against Jesse Bonner and numerous others, to quiet title to lots 4, 5, and 6, in the Peter Rodgers addition. The plaintiff, represented by W. H. Hill, states that he owns and is in possession of the lots, and the defendants claim to have an interest in the property, which is unfounded and constitutes a cloud to the title. He asks the court to declare their claims null and void.

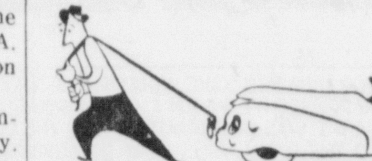

DIVORCE ASKED

On claims of gross neglect of duty, Herschel E. Arnold asks divorce from Betty Helen Arnold to whom he was married in Greenup, Ky., in 1949. The defendant is a minor. W. W. Hill represents Arnold.

The Answers to everyday insurance problems *
By Leonard Korn and Dana Hyer

QUESTION: If we have an accident with our car out on the highway and we pay to have it towed into a garage, will the insurance company reimburse us?

ANSWER: Yes, the insurance company will pay any reasonable charges you may incur in protecting the car from further damage or theft. It is your duty to protect the car in any way you can and if it is disabled, having it taken to a garage would be the proper thing to do.

If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

The guardsmen are inside the prison walls now and are armed with heavy weapons ready to shoot in case of more trouble. However, not a shot has been fired by the national guard.

Company M was the only heavy weapons company at the prison until Tuesday, when the division from Mt. Vernon was called in to help relieve Co. M.

The guardsmen are sleeping on the floor of the prison and for their meals they are taken to Fort Hayes in Columbus.

Lieut. Don Wood, commander of Company M, left for the prison scene Wednesday morning.

Drivers Arrested For Violations

Following a traffic mishap on Columbus Avenue at Delaware Street at 7:40 A. M. Wednesday, Charles W. Blair of Cincinnati, driving a Gooding Amusement Co. truck, was taken into custody for not having a driver's license.

The Gooding truck was proceeding on Columbus Avenue when the light changed and the driver said he had difficulty in stopping. He was partly across the intersection, so he started to back up and backed into a truck driven by Fred D. Blanton of Cincinnati.

Police investigated and Blair showed an operator's license that was not his own.

He was to appear in municipal court on the charge.

Charles Lyndol Marcum, 25, Oneida, Tenn., on a reckless operation charge, posted $50 bond.
